Clinical Trial Training for Investigators

The North West Clinical Trials Collaborative is pleased to announce its on-campus course:

Improving Health by Improving Trials

Location: University of Liverpool/Alder Hey Children's Hospital
Course dates: 28th September – 2nd October 2020
Course fee: £525, includes course materials, lunch and refreshments
CPD accredited: 30 points awarded for full week attendance
Individual day attendance available: Charged at £105 per day

Faculty includes experts in:
Clinical trials: Professor Paula Williamson, Dr Susanna Dodd
Statistics: Professor Richard Emsley, Dr Chris Sutton, Professor Jamie Kirkham, Professor James Wason
Qualitative and recruitment research: Professor Peter Bower, Professor Bridget Young
Health economics: Professor Dyfrig Hughes

Overview
The number of clinical trials being conducted has increased, and the need for greater efficiency in design, conduct, analysis and reporting has been recognised in both the public and industry sector.
The programme will include:
- Trial design
- Trial conduct
- Recruitment of trial participants
- Public and patient involvement
- Analysis and reporting
- Health Informatics
- Health economics

Prerequisites
Understanding of basic statistical concepts is assumed.

Target audience
This course is aimed at health and research professionals, particularly those aiming to become Chief Investigators.

How to apply
To register for this course please click here

Feedback from previous course

"Speakers all knowledgeable / credible / approachable. Pitched at the right level."

"The team is clearly very keen and worked hard to make the course happen."

"The sessions on design and analysis were excellent and were very practical too."

"The facilitators were excellent and to the point. The practical sessions made the lectures vivid."

"Comprehensive overview, provided a basic understanding of most key issues I wanted to know about and many I hadn't considered."